Is the title Ergonomist, HFE specialist, or similar protected by law in your country?	In Serbia, there is no title Ergonomist or HFE specialist. Ergonomics is recognized by law as a scientific discipline (subdiscipline), but we don't have this title in the register of jobs.
Briefly describe important activities of your Society / Network since last annual report	Members of the Ergonomics Society of Serbia participated in several national projects in the area of ergonomics and safety, funded by two main national Innovation funds. Also, members of the ESS have participated in one international CEEPUS project led by the Hungarian Ergonomics Society. This project is an educational initiative in the field of ergonomics, which gathers 10 European countries. ESS also supported one international conference held in Serbia in the domain of Occupational safety. We also supported the ErgoWork conference that was organized by the ErgoWork Society of Romania. A representative of the ESS also participated in the 36th Summer University on Ergonomics held in Hungary. President of the ESS Prof. Zunjic has been elected for the Chair of the Technical Committee for Safety and Health of the IEA. He is also Secretary-General of the Federation of the European Ergonomics Societies, and Editor-in-Chief of the IETI Transactions on Ergonomics and Safety journal. This journal has been published by the International Engineering and Technology Institute (IETI), the organization that gathers scientists and scientific institutions from all continents. Several Nobel Prize laureates are members of the IETI. The journal can be found at the address https://www.ieti.net/tes/about.html .
